Arts Ahead presents
CULTURAL KALEIDOSCOPE: MIGRATION IN THE ARTS

Created by Centennial College's post-graduate Arts Management students

Thursday, February 21, 2019 | Artscape Sandbox, Toronto

Our identity, our culture, our future. Our strengths lie in our differences.

This year, Centennial College's annual student-run event, Arts Ahead, presents Cultural Kaleidoscope: Migration in the Arts. The event aims to create an atmosphere exploring the effects of human migration and dispersion of artistic influences on culture. The focus centres around the shaping of our cultural identity through art and tradition.

The full-day symposium will feature a workshop, collection of panel discussions, silent auction, reception, and inspiring presentations by admirable arts professionals from multidisciplinary backgrounds. The following distinguished guests will be presenting at the event:

Founded in 2015, Arts Ahead encourages important and topical conversations in the arts and culture sector. Each year, the full-day symposium is coordinated by the class of post-graduate Arts Management students at Centennial College. Unique and fitting to the theme of this year's event, the team is encompassed of entirely young women from a variety of cultural backgrounds. The Arts Ahead team is comprised of women from China, Ukraine, Brazil, Jamaica, Iran, and Canada. Working together with female fortitude, innovation, and intelligence, these women will not fall short of presenting a one-of-a-kind occasion.

Arts Ahead is a student collective organized through the post-graduate, Arts Management program at Centennial College's Story Arts Centre. As aspiring arts managers with backgrounds in various disciplines, students came together under the umbrella of Arts Ahead to highlight the importance of arts management through an annual symposium. Through these events, Arts Ahead seeks to provide cultural professionals with practical development and networking opportunities to strengthen the position of arts management within the Toronto and Canadian arts, culture, and heritage industries.

Arts Ahead is immensely grateful for the supporters and partners who share the same passion for arts and culture and make this paramount event possible.
